

Dining -

General Poor's - Historic Location - Great Food and Drink

By Dave and Ruth Rosenbaum

We discovered a unique restaurant in a very accessible location in Hackensack. General Poor's is located in a well lit area on Main Street, not too far from the courthouse. This is an American restaurant with delicious steaks, burgers, chicken, seafood, pizza, sandwiches, and salads.

We found the decor of brick walls extremely relaxing. The friendly servers, bartenders, and owner/manager greeted customers and carefully filled requests and helped with suggestions.

We enjoyed the full service bar and watched the frivolity at the pool tables. There were customers who said they kept returning because they loved the game and could play while enjoying a snack, a meal, a drink, and friendship. A good time to meet old friends or make new friends is at the 4 pm - 7 pm Happy Hour Mon-Fri, with a FREE buffet on Friday.

General Pooors is open for lunch and dinner with entertainment on certain evenings. It is closed on Saturday evenings except for parties and comedy nights. We found the Saturday Night Comedy Club, Side Splitting Productions by Davin Rosenblatt, and General Poor's sumptuous buffet a winning combination. The Comedy Club has developed quite a following. The Saturday night that we tried this unusual evening's entertainment brought us continuous laughter. Mike Eagle Eye, Susan McDonald, Joe Perez, and Glen Miller entertained the audience with humor relating to marriage, family values, and societal issues. Pakistan said humorously related to ethnic prejudices, misconceptions about Pakistani's, Islam, and reincarnation. The Comedy Club will be back at General Pooors in June. We suggest making a reservation. Bring your appetite. This wonderful All You Can Eat Buffet included Chicken Marsala, Stuffed Mushrooms, Stuffed Shells, Sausage, Peppers and Onions, Seafood, Turkey Salad, and Cookies. The show and buffet is an excellent value. You can enjoy this terrific combination for only $20 per person.

General Pooors has a party menu. You can celebrate all kinds of occasions in this relaxing atmosphere. If you prefer to have events catered off premises, you will also be glad you've arranged to have this done by the General Poor's personnel. When entering this historic location you will enjoy the food, the drinks, and service in a historic little corner of America. The name of the restaurant commemorates General Enoch Poor, Continental Army U.S.A. A statue in his honor is located directly to the east of this restaurant across the "green".

If you can't go to Napoli

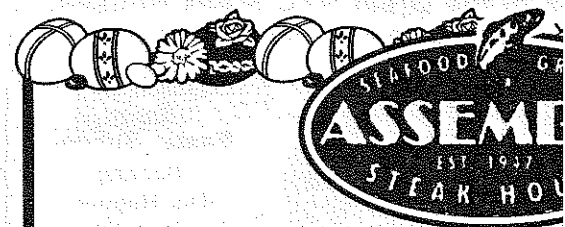

La Vecchia

ITALIAN RESTAURANT

OPEN LUNCH & DINNER

www.lavecchiana.com

2 Hilliard Ave (Cor. of River Road) Englewood

Easter Sunday Buffet

11:00 am to 3:00 pm

- A Selection of Gourmets
- Stuffed Breast of Chicken with Spinach, Mushrooms, and Onions
- Veal Sauteed with Wild Mushrooms, Peppers and Onions
- Mixed Seafood with White Wine, Garlic Sauce
- Poached Eggs Assembly • Assorted Sandwiches
- Omelette Station • Carving Station

All This Includes a Glass of Chateau Pinot
Dinner Menu Starting at $20.00

CALL FOR RESERVATIONS

495 Sylvan Avenue, Englewood
201-568-2616 • Fax 201-567-5752

GENERAL
TAVERN

45 Main Street, Hackensack, NJ
Phone: 487-5882 • Fax: 487-5883

Kitchen Open